Fastest growing hubs in Europe >40 mppa (2015–2016%)

- Barcelona (BCN) +11,2%
- Amsterdam (AMS) +9,2%
- Madrid (MAD) +7,7%

Other fastest growing hubs:
- New Delhi, India (DEL) +21,0%
- Incheon, Korea (ICN) +17,1%
- Kunming, China (KMG) +11,9%
- Mumbai, India (BOM) +9,9%
- Taoyuan, Chinese Taipei (TPE) +9,9%
- Shanghai, China (PVG) +9,8%
- Chengdu, China (CTU) +9,0%
- Guangzhou, China (CAN) +8,2%
- Los Angeles, USA (LAX) +8,0%
- Seattle, USA (SEA) +8,0%
- Denver, USA (DEN) +7,9%
- Mexico City, Mexico (MEX) +7,7%
- Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (KUL) +7,6%

No frills business model drives big traffic gains in Europe in 2016

Spain, one of Europe’s largest markets, is home to airport hubs Barcelona (BCN) and Madrid (MAD). The country market has recovered quickly from its recession. Amsterdam (AMS), a major hub, is strategically located in a competitive market for connections on continental and intercontinental traffic.

Fastest growing country market in passenger traffic

VIETNAM +28,2%

Chinese airports are the largest contributors to global growth

Share of global passenger traffic increase (2015–2016%)

- China 23,5%
- USA 16,0%
- India 12,6%
- Qatar 8,8%
- Others 5,4%

Share of global air cargo increase (2015–2016%)

- China 23,5%
- USA 22,9%
- India 17,1%
- Others 5,4%

Annual World Airport Traffic Report

China

USA

India

Qatar

Others

USA

China

India

Qatar

Others

ASIA AND THE BURGEONING PACIFIC MARKET:
Selected fastest growing hubs for passenger traffic >40 mppa (2015–2016%)

- New Delhi, India (DEL) 56 million
- Incheon, Korea (ICN) 58 million
- Kunming, China (KMG) 42 million
- Mumbai, India (BOM) 45 million
- Taoyuan, Chinese Taipei (TPE) 42 million
- Shanghai, China (PVG) 42 million
- Chengdu, China (CTU) 46 million
- Guangzhou, China (CAN) 46 million
- Los Angeles, USA (LAX) 46 million
- Seattle, USA (SEA) 46 million
- Denver, USA (DEN) 46 million
- Mexico City, Mexico (MEX) 46 million
- Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (KUL) 53 million

Find out more at www.aci.aero/statistics-publications