Tunde Oyekola, an architect, is the CEO of El-Mansur Atelier (EMA) Group, an award winning AEC (Architecture, Engineering and Construction) company based in Nigeria with a commitment to providing bespoke global design and construction services. EMA, under Tunde's leadership, is currently working on its fourth green-field airport project in Bayelsa State of Nigeria, having successfully completed the fast-track Dutse International Airport in 12 months. EMA's scope of services covers all aspects of consultancy services necessary for the commencement of operations at the airports.

In addition to his broad experience in airport design, Tunde has also led EMA in several multinational collaborative efforts with African, American, European and Asian project partners towards the successful delivery of a variety of projects including: projects for International Oil and Gas companies, Commercial Real Estate developments, Healthcare Facilities and Diplomatic missions.

Tunde sits on the board of Airports Council International Africa (ACI Africa) as Director representing the World Business Partners.

Tunde Oyekola and EMA hold membership with several professional bodies including:

- Nigerian Institute of Architects
- International Associate, American Institute of Architects
- Airport Consultants Council
- International Association of Airport Executives
- Airports Council International Africa World Business Partner programme
