

Ruud Ummels is managing director at To70 Aviation and airport planning and operations expert. He has led over 500 consultancy projects in over 30 countries. Having spent six years in the Asia-Pacific region, he has helped deliver sustainable growth at airports such as Melbourne, Bangkok and Singapore. His recent experience ranges from lead roles for the airport master plans at Amsterdam and Brussels, airspace modernisation in Doha, the STARGATE project for Brussels, the national plan for airport development in Italy, and capacity studies in Bogota and Lima. Ruud has been an active member in several Committees and Fora in the different ACI regions. He was elected Europe's WBP representative in 2019 and is currently in his second term.