

PAMELA BROWN

Pamela brings more than 30 years of experience in the airport industry, with expertise in business development, IT solutions, property management, and landside services. She began her career in Business & Properties at Santa Barbara Municipal Airport (SBA) and later served as Property Manager at Portland International Airport (PDX).

Pamela joined Paradies Lagardère in 2018—the North American leader in travel retail and food and beverage—as Vice President of Business Development, supporting airport partners across the United States. Prior to this role, she served as Sr. Vice President of Development at SP Plus (now Metropolis), the nation’s largest provider of airport parking, transportation, and landside services.

Earlier in her career, Pamela co-founded Airport Business Technologies, an airport-focused Wi-Fi company specializing in public Wi-Fi, telecommunications, and related IT solutions for airport clients nationwide.

Pamela also serves on the Board of Capital Sisters International, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to providing microfinance business loans to women in developing countries.
